Tu 5/2 – Book Discussion Group: Staggerford by Jon Hassler

12:30-2:30 pm. GSC. Free.

W 5/3 – 17 (Wednesdays) – Breaking White Silence Book Group

10:30 am-12 pm. GSC. Free.

Please join us to participate in a new project of the PNA, which is intended to create several anti-racist consciousness raising groups throughout our community, including one at the Greenwood Senior Center (all ages welcome!).

As a starting place we will be using Robin DiAngelo's book, What It Means to be White: Developing White Racial Literacy. Using Dr. DiAngelo's text and encouraging personal reflection and conversation, these book groups are a first step to open up discussion about whiteness, white privilege and racism. For further information about this project or to RSVP: 206.297.0875. To learn more about Robin DiAngelo's work: robindiangelo.com.

F 5/5 – First Friday Film: Since Otar Left (2003)

Sa 6/3 – PhinneyWood Garage Sale Day

9 am-2 pm. PC parking lots, Tool Library and neighborhood.

Score a bargain at this community-wide event. Check the PNA map for yard sales throughout the neighborhood and stop by the Phinney Center's Flea Market and Tool Sale. Donate to Goodwill and recycle electronics at the PC. Shred up to four boxes of paper with Seadrunar Recycling's truck from 9 am-1 pm. Plus, swap plants and pots or pick up some new plants for free. Visit phinneycenter.org/garagesale for info or to register your sale (register by May 20).

Sa 6/3 – Pride Rainbow Hop

10:30 am-1:30 pm. PhinneyWood neighborhood. Free.

A family event, the PhinneyWood Pride Rainbow Hop kick-starts Pride Month in Seattle. Participating neighborhood businesses and nonprofits promote the value of diversity by hosting events and activities and handing out goodies that focus on diversity and fun. From face painting to rainbow sidewalk art, the Rainbow Hop honors everyone in our community, whether you're LGBT or straight. This will be the fourth year our local businesses come together to put on this event.
